2007 Hannity Freedom Concerts and Rallies for the Troops
More Great Entertainers Added to Lineup!

This summer, Sean Hannity will host five Hannity Freedom Concerts to rally support for our troops, their families and the cause of freedom. Proceeds will benefit the Freedom Alliance Scholarship Fund for the children of our military heroes, who have been killed or permanently disabled in service to our country.

Headlining this year’s Freedom Concerts will be America’s hottest country sensations, Montgomery Gentry and LeAnn Rimes, as well as America’s country music legend, Lee Greenwood. “This is so cool. ‘T-Roy and I love the military,” said Eddie Montgomery. “These shows are not about red or blue or right or left. They are about helping those families who are in our military. I hope everyone will join us in this effort.”

The Charlie Daniels Band and “Larry the Cable Guy” have joined the Freedom Concerts line-up and will perform at the Atlanta concert. Contemporary Christian singer and multi-grammy winner, Michael W. Smith, will perform at the San Diego concert.

Freedom Alliance will host active duty, injured and recuperating military heroes (and their families) from military bases and hospitals across the country, at the Freedom Concerts. Gold Star families, who have lost loved ones in the War on Terror, will also be special guests of Freedom Alliance at the concerts, so our grateful crowds of thousands can say “THANK YOU!”

Freedom Alliance Scholarship recipients from around the country will attend the Freedom Concerts too. The 2007 Hannity Freedom Concerts are expected to raise more than $1 million for the Freedom Alliance Scholarship Fund.

To order tickets, make a donation to the Freedom Alliance Scholarship Fund, or for more information, please call (800) 329-5454 or www.freedomalliance.org and listen to Sean’s radio show three hours a day, every day.

Oliver North, Sean Hannity and Newt Gingrich in Hawaii for Memorial Day Events as Freedom Alliance Steps Up “Support Our Troops” Activities

Freedom Alliance Founder and Honorary Chairman Oliver North was joined by special friends of Freedom Alliance, Sean Hannity and Newt Gingrich, as they commemorated Memorial Day in Hawaii – a state whose people and military installations have played such a pivotal role in the defense of our nation.

Freedom Alliance hosted a Hawaiian Luau at the beautiful Hilton Hawaiian Village on Waikiki Beach for wounded troops recuperating at Tripler Army Medical Center. More than 50 wounded veterans and their families from Tripler were thrilled to be able to meet Oliver North and Sean Hannity who attended the luau and thanked our troops for their many sacrifices and vowed to keep working on their behalf.

At the Luau, U.S. Army Captain Mark Young, Commander of Tripler’s Medical Review Processing Unit, presented Freedom Alliance with a Certificate of Appreciation for its “outreach to honor and support our Armed forces” and for “showing our Wounded Warriors and their families that America still cares.” Captain Young thanked Freedom Alliance for its “continued leadership and dedication to enhancing support for the U.S. service members and the Hawaii National Guard.”

“In Hawaii,” Colonel North said, “Memorial Day still seems to have a special meaning.” He noted that it may... be due to the fact that the islands host more than 100,000 military personnel and their dependents. Or it could be because of the attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, which killed 2,388 Americans. Either way, North said, “Hawaii is full of people who believe in a quaint notion: never forget the sacrifices of our servicemen and women.”

At Freedom Alliance’s Salute to America’s Military Heroes – a luncheon for Freedom Alliance supporters – which featured Sean Hannity, Colonel North and Newt Gingrich at the Sheraton Waikiki Hotel, former House Speaker Gingrich graciously praised Colonel North and Freedom Alliance for their steadfast work on behalf of those who serve our country.

Following the luncheon, Former Speaker Newt Gingrich autographed his just-released historical novel, “Pearl Harbor.” Congressman Gingrich has dedicated a page in his book to the work of Freedom Alliance.

NOTE: Freedom Alliance is offering an autographed copy of “Pearl Harbor” in appreciation for a contribution of $100 or more. Please see the reply envelope in this newsletter for details.

2007 Events to Benefit the Freedom Alliance Scholarship Fund and Support Our Troops

Thank you to hundreds of “Great Americans” across our country who organized fundraising events with their friends and neighbors to support Freedom Alliance.

One such event is the Third Annual SFC Nathan Chapman Golf Classic, September 11, 2007 at Cimarron Hills Golf and Country Club in Georgetown, Texas. Freedom Alliance President, Tom Kilgannon, will attend the Soldier’s Tribute Dinner on September 10. Soldiers from the 1st Special Forces Group, Ft. Lewis, Washington, the unit SFC Chapman served in, and from the 4th Infantry Division and the 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment, both from Ft. Hood, Texas, will be honored as special guests at the two-day event.

Proceeds will go to the Freedom Alliance Scholarship Fund and the Support Our Troops program. The event is named in honor of SFC Nathan Ross Chapman, the first American soldier killed by enemy fire in Afghanistan in the War on Terror.

and will honor active duty soldiers who continue to risk their lives as well as all those who made the ultimate sacrifice in the defense of liberty while serving the American people.

Mystii Woodley is the daughter of Sergeant Orange Woodley, who served in the U.S. Army and was proud when my brother graduated Texas A&M in 2000, but he passed away in 2001 when I was 16. He didn't get to see me graduate high school, and he physically won't be there when I graduate A&M in May '07. But I know he'd have made it without him. I wish he were here for me to thank him in person for the life he fought to give me. I can only hope to be like him!" — Andrew Brooks, Class of 2007 Texas A&M University
A new Freedom Alliance Policy Update, being released this summer, exposes the huge multi-billion dollar boondoggle renovation at the UN headquarters in New York City. What started out as a $953 million project has already turned into a $1.88 billion project – nearly doubling in cost.

The new report highlights that real estate mogul, Donald Trump, presented to Congress stating that the real costs for the UN headquarters remodel is likely to skyrocket to $3 billion due to mismanagement and corruption. That was before the link between a lucrative UN renovation contract and the Oil-for-Food scandal was exposed. Initially, the UN planned to “borrow” (and presumably repay) money for the project from the United States. However, the UN has now decided to just take much of the money without repayment, by levying an assessment on the American taxpayer for $413.6 million, which is 22% of the entire estimated cost.

For Fiscal Year 2008, the Bush Administration’s budget projects U.S. annual dues to the UN will be $495 million AND an additional $600 million in payments to UN agencies. As the graph below shows, U.S. taxpayers are expected to pay the substantial sum of $413.6 million for the UN remodel, IN ADDITION to the $1.1 billion in dues and payments to UN agencies.

Jacksonville Marines Support Freedom Alliance Scholarship Fund

Heart recipients who had been wounded in Iraq, Barry and Freedom Alliance President, Tom Kilgannon, thanked each Guardman for his service to our country and gave each of them a $1,000 grant. All of the service members expressed deep appreciation and one of the Guardsmen commented, “You don’t know what this means to my family and me.” During the game, the troops were introduced and received a standing ovation from the crowd. Strikeouts For Troops has teamed up with Freedom Alliance for the last three years to provide financial support to our war-wounded veterans who are being treated at military hospitals across the country.
